About us

We have a good team of talented, technically sound plumbing and fire fighting professionals from foreman, plumbers, fitters, helpers etc to technical advisors.

AQUAFIRETECH - The core principle of the company :

To approach Plumbing & Fire protection as a passion rather than a business - has been inculcated among all its employees.

While most people will make use of Plumbing & Fire protection services at some point in their lives, many are unsure about what they should expect from these professionals when they are called out to their homes. Hiring the appropriate professional for the job is not only about getting quality service, it is also about the experience that you get along with the service; if you choose the right professional for the task, you can be rest assured that you don't have to endlessly find out why your pipe line happen to be leaking. Every drop matters .....
